Dear Valued ONE Customer,EC5/ Fire onboard Yantian Express

Efforts to extinguish the fire have made continuous progress and have allowed the fire to be largely contained and brought under control.

On Wednesday evening, a crew of five safely transferred back from the ocean-going tug "Smit Nicobar" to the "Yantian Express". The "Yantian Express" is currently being towed at a slow speed by the "Maersk Mobiliser" and continues to be about 800 nautical miles off the coast of Canada. A third ocean-going tug is on its way to the "Yantian Express" and is expected to begin assisting the activities on 13 January.

At this time, it is not possible to make a precise estimate of any damage to Yantian Express or its cargo. Ocean Network Express is in close cooperation with all relevant authorities and will continue to update you as this situation progresses.

We regret the inconvenience caused and thank you for your understanding in this regard. Should you have any questions or concerns, please contact your sales account representative for additional information.

Sincerely,
Ocean Network Express Pte. Ltd.
