Ocean Network Express to Suspend China-Australia (CAE) Service

06 April 2020 – Singapore – Due to the impact of COVID-19, Ocean Network Express (ONE) is suspending the China Australia service (CAE) which is jointly operated with Maersk and MSC. This suspension is expected to last until at least Q2-2020.

To assist customers during this exceptional time, alternative cover of the CAE ports is provided by inducing a Hong Kong call to the North East Asia Australia (AUN) Service, also jointly operated with the same consortia – Maersk and MSC.

CAE port rotation:

*Xiamen – Nansha - Hong Kong – Yantian – Melbourne – Sydney – Brisbane – Xiamen

The last CAE sailing before the suspension will be scheduled to depart Xiamen April 22nd.

The new AUN port rotation:

*Yokohama – Osaka – Pusan – Qingdao – Shanghai – Ningbo - (Hong Kong) – Sydney – Melbourne – Brisbane - (Hong Kong) - Yokohama

The first AUN sailing with Hong Kong call will be the MOL Genesis, scheduled to depart Yokohama April 21st.

ONE will continue to closely monitor the impact of COVID-19 and advise customers of any necessary service changes. For further inquiries please contact your account manager or customer service representatives. Thank you for your support and understanding during this unusual period.
